I can't get my act together. I want so bad to be able to get a label done fast and have a label that looks great, but the process of designing a label is nearly impossible for me. I have a few questions in mind, but I don't want to post them here because I'd like to get an answer to them from someone else first. 1. How do I get the most out of my label? How do I get a professional looking print looking just like the mock-ups? 2. How do I effectively get creative with my images? Obviously the image needs to be designed on a vector layer in a vector design program (Photoshop, Illustrator, etc). How do I ensure that the background and the layered file(s) have the maximum amount of quality when I export it? I want to make sure the label has as good a chance of looking the same in the printed version. 3. How do I take advantage of 3D printing? (I can't tell you how many times I've printed something in the past, then got called by a customer saying "I want this instead, and it's more accurate"). I'd like to ensure that my label looks as professional as possible when printed... not knowing how to do this, this would be the perfect place to learn
